What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Dras, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays torments. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves tooth-aching troubles, cures constipation and flatulence. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Paeseca—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its effect upon their children.

Dr. G. C. O'Connor,
Well, Mass.

Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when we shall be able to furnish a supply of this article, and the parents instead of the various quick nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by giving opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature grave.

J. F. Kinner, Ark.

Castoria.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to many prescriptions known to me.

H. A. Ammons, M. D.,
111 No. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Our physician in the children's department has spoken highly of the Castoria. We have had many calls from parents who have been anxious to have their children treated with Castoria. We are now in receipt of a large quantity of the various quick nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by giving opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature grave.

ALICE C. SEITER, Pres.,
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY,
Boston, Mass.

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

23-It Restores Wages.

The N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company, one of the largest industrial establishments in St. Louis with branch factories in Mound City and LeClaire, Ill., is conducted on the profit-sharing plan. The men have received dividends for the last ten years, and when the money stringency became severe last August they cheerfully accepted a cut of 25 per cent. in wages.

Tuesday a meeting of the directors was held, and Mr. Nelson announced that a dividend of 7 per cent. would be paid for the current year, and that the loss by cut in wages would be returned in cash to each employe on January 17 next, and wages restored. The company employs 510 men. Removal of business is ascribed to the cause of this action.

The new head of Collector Shelby, of the Lexington district, arrived this afternoon and was approved by Commissioner Miller. The gentlemen on the first board who kicked about the distribution of the patronage are now relieved from their responsibility.—Washington Cor. Courier-Journal, December 27.

Mr. P. S. Barber, the wealthiest man in Nelson County, Ky., died at Barboursville Tuesday night, leaving an estate valued at $2,000,000. He left every cent of it. He did not take a penny with him.

Justice Patterson, of the New York Supreme Court, has given a decision dismissing the complaint in the action of Francis D. Carley to set aside and annul notes aggregating $70,000, which he had given to the banking firm of J. Kennedy Tod & Co.

Pure Polon Olshan bears and gills for sale by R. MARSHALL.

For all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood. Dyspepsia, biliousness, acrofrosis, skin and scalp disease—over consumption (or lung-consumption) in its earlier stages—the "Discovery" is the only guaranteed remedy.

In recovering from "Cripe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other wasting diseases. It speedily and sure invigorates and builds up the whole system. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, rouses every organ into natural action, and brings back health and strength.

A Corruption of the Word Christ Child
Now Applied to Santa Claus.

In these days Kris Kringle is looked upon as an alternative name for Santa Claus; but, in fact, he is, etymologically and historically, a totally different being, though the two personages have been welded into one in the popular imagination. A very small knowledge of German reveals the fact that Kris Kringle is simply a corruption of the word "Christkindl," or Christ child, which corresponds with the Christian festival is too obvious to need explanation. But what seems inexplicable is how the Christ child of the past, the Holy One, whose nativity is the subject of commemoration in that feast which we call Christmas, should have evolved into the white haired, white bearded, merry hearted and kindly old pagan whom we call indifferently Kris Kringle or Santa Claus.

Yet at the very moment when we have come face to face with this seemingly incongruous fact, we have needed a solution which seemed impossible when we strove to understand the much less startling transformation of St. Nicholas into Santa Claus.

We remember that the Christians festive of today is a great evolution from the time that they adopted the Christian period; so that though it celebrates the mightiest fact in the history of Christendom it was overlaid upon heathen festivals, and many of its traditional observances are mere adaptations of paganism.

This was no mere accident. It was a necessary measure at a time when the new religion was forced on a deeply superstitious population. In order to recover the adherents of the old faith and to make the transition of these religions as painless as possible these relics of paganism were preserved under modified exteriors, exactly as the antique columns were transferred from ancient temples to adorn the Christian basilicas.

In course of time, as the idea of mundane merriment rather than religious sanctification at the period of Christmas became the predominant one, St. Nicholas or Santa Claus lost his original character, jollity more rubricous in aspect, while the Christ child faded more and more into the background, until at last the very name of the latter under the slightly different form of Kris Kringle was transferred to his successor.—Selected.

Yuletide Superstitions.

While traveling at Devon a few years ago, I found that the people in those old Christmases superstitions and customs. Every family I visited provided, if able to afford them, a "Yule candle" and a "Yule cake" for the Christmas season, and it is considered very unlucky to cut them before Christmas day.

The same superstition prevails with regard to the "Yule candle"—a very tall candle specially provided—and the "Yule dog" or log and large stick for the Christmas fire. Many a house is certain to follow if either candle or log is lighted until just as the family are sitting down to supper on Christmas eve, and it is also considered a sure presage of evil for any one to stir the log or snuff the candle during the progress of the meal.

On Christmas morning no member of the family must step out of the house until its threshold has been crossed by the footstep of some male outsider. If a woman's step is heard on Christmas morning, ill luck is sure to follow. Another Devonshire superstition is that if the sun shines brightly at noon on Christmas day there will be a plentiful crop of apples in the succeeding summer.—Buffalo Express.

The Christmas Stocking.

A jolly device to take the place of the tree is a big stocking with its top held open, the toe of which is made outwards. It is made of striped calico or any available stuff and must be big enough to hold all the gifts, which are to be done up stoutly in pasteboard and paper. Each is tied with twine, and a label is left. A tag is added to each string bearing the name of the person for whom the package is destined. Then all the packages are put into the stocking. When it is time for the distribution, each must find a string with his or her name on it and take hold. At a given signal all pull at once.

The fun will be increased if the rule that no one can get a gift except by pulling at the string, and that no one may pull at more than one disentangle strings. It would perhaps be better to put in only one gift for each person at one time. Then, when all have got their packages, a second batch is arranged; then a third and so on.

As there is plenty, we decided so to do. gifts can be easily got by exchange, is a variation of this suggestion. If preferred, in either case the strings may be pulled one by one by a single person who has been chosen giftmaster.—New York Press.

Christmas Bells.

How many memories gather round the sound of bells! How many a joyous time we used to have when they peal diry dally and the ground shone.

The sound of tramp of frosty furrows. When they trill along some tortuous mound, again, they summon souls to praise or pray. They mingle in with music when it plays. Millions of us, so that all of life seems fair, or think it is, when we hear them ring. Where winter lies dead the flock that is there, when at least as they hearously boom and bright.

The good ship comes from rocks; on land they lie.

The three of day, morning, noon and night, Chime over the sleeping day, all is well, Or the world will be up with early light.

But where, to help us to sleep, a sweet and strong.

Up to the air as those of Christmas times! So true with precious meausures in their song.

So swelling with a hope and joy sublime, Come a bell, to you all bold and bold.

—Richard Burton.

A New Departure.

Beginning with the 1st of January, 1894, we will adopt a strictly cash system. We take this departure from the old established manner of doing business that has been so long in vogue in Kentucky after due thought and deliberation knowing it is not only to our interest, but that it is to the interest of every one. We are driven to this course by the great stringency in money matters, and the difficulty of collecting our accounts when due, the abuse of the Credit System being on the increase continually. To those who have so kindly patronized us in the past, we extend our sincere thanks and trust they will realize the importance of "this New Departure" by continuing to give us their patronage.

Timely Notice.

All persons who know themselves indebted to us, must be prepared to settle their accounts by the first of January, 1894.
